At Tereos, we are leading the way towards a more sustainable industry and agriculture by implementing low-carbon processes, reducing emissions, and promoting regenerative agricultural practices to help our customers achieve their scope 3 greenhouse gas (GHG) reduction targets.

We have built a robust roadmap recognized by major international standards and certifications institutions, with clear goals to reduce our GHG in the industrial and agricultural areas, while participating in different regenerative agriculture programs.

This roadmap is in line with SBTi FLAG, with impacts that are already measurable, and will enable us to achieve Net-Zero by 2050. It emphasizes our commitment to environmental stewardship at both industrial and agricultural levels.
